

Graduate-Level Writing Courses

AC ENG 210: Graduate Research Writing

Designed to help graduate students in the preparation of a conference paper or journal manuscript for publication. Students will learn how to write for academic publication in their fields, understand plagiarism and source use conventions, work on a writing project they bring (e.g., conference/journal paper, etc.), and receive individualized feedback through one-on-one writing tutorials.

COURSE OFFERINGS FOR SPRING 2023

N/A (not offered Spring 2023)

AC ENG 211: Writing for Publication

Designed to help graduate students in the preparation of a conference paper or journal manuscript for publication. Students will learn how to write for academic publication in their fields, understand plagiarism and source use conventions, work on a writing project they bring (e.g., conference/journal paper, etc.), and receive individualized feedback through one-on-one writing tutorials.

COURSE OFFERINGS FOR SPRING 2023

20185 TH 11:00 - 12:50 PM

AC ENG 212: Thesis / Dissertation Writing

Designed to help graduate students in the preparation of a thesis/dissertation (or proposal). Students will learn how to plan and structure a thesis/dissertation project, understand the focuses and goals of different chapters, practice different ways of integrating sources to avoid plagiarism, and receive individualized feedback through one-on-one writing tutorials.

COURSE OFFERINGS FOR SPRING 2023

20187 TH 9:00 - 10:50 AM

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

All courses offer:

- One-on-one writing consultations
- Flexible hybrid scheduling to accommodate graduate students' needs
- Pass / no pass grading and 2 units of coursework